

Scraps and Facts.

—Stories have been put in circulation without official denial to the effect that Germany has in some manner managed to secure the release of the British cargo ship, the Albatross, which was captured by the German navy in the Atlantic. It is stated that a base of operations has been procured for the ship in the West Indies and it is expected that there will soon appear stories of attacks on British fuel and other supply carriers.

—Fairfax Harrison, president of the company, Robert M. Galloway, banker of New York and John W. Grant, capitalist of Atlanta, whose terms as directors expired, were re-elected Tuesday at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Railway Company in Richmond, Va. Henry B. Miller vice president of the company, selected by the board of directors to fill the unexpired term of the late Col. A. B. Andrews, also was elected director for three years.

—The administration has virtually decided on a naval programme that will about double the present strength of the fleet within the next five years. It is proposed to build twenty dreadnoughts and battle cruiser type, with a proportionate number of submarines, scout cruisers, destroyers, and other vessels. Estimates call for an appropriation of $248,000,000 by the next session of congress, which is a way to start things, so that a similar appropriation will be necessary each year for the next five years.

—The city of Asheville, N. C., is very much stirred over the operations of an unusually slick man who has been in business there recently. The thief is described as a young white man 20 or 25 years of age. His plan has been to go to a restaurant, drug store, jewelry store or any other place that suits him, and buy goods to the amount of from $50 to $100, and then change the goods to a certain house and that the messenger bring change for a $20 bill. The thief would then change and on pretense of going after the bill would go around the house and not only take the goods, but also the messenger's money. The thief has been unusually slick, having swindled several different concerns in the city and when at times the messenger has been in trouble in agreeing upon his identity, but up to this time that is about all they have.

—New York, October 13: The cotton futures act August 18, 1914, known as the Lever law, was declared unconstitutional today by Federal District Judge George W. W. Smith. The decision was rendered in the case brought by Samuel T. Hubbard of the cotton brokerage firm of Hubbard Brothers and Company, who had paid $1,000 to protest to John Z. Lowe, Jr., collector of internal revenue, under the provisions of the law. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs. The suit alleged that the act was unconstitutional, first because it originated in the Senate, and second, because the law taxed the manner of performing the transaction instead of the transaction itself. Judge Smith said: "The bill known as the cotton futures act, which was passed by the Senate in August, 1914, is not a law of the United States and therefore is a proposition it is not longer open to discussion. The act is a law of the United States and therefore is a proposition it is not longer open to discussion. The act is a law of the United States and therefore is a proposition it is not longer open to discussion."

—The Anderson Daily Mail has announced that Major J. C. Hemphill, formerly editor of the News and Courier, and since then connected with various other newspapers, is to be the managing editor of a new daily paper to be established in Charlottesville, Va. Whether Judge Hough is right on his Lever law decision or not, and we do not believe he is right, the decision will get in its harm for the present crop of the same. Congress, however, has been expressed in the technical opinion that the decision is based, by repassing the bill at once from the house.

—The Australian ballot system as operated in Charleston works nicely, and it will be well for the general assembly to make the same law apply all over the state. It is apparent to men of observation and experience that it is the best system for the purpose. The system has been in operation for some time, and it has been found that it is the best system for the purpose. The system has been in operation for some time, and it has been found that it is the best system for the purpose.

—The man who has cotton and owes debts should pay his debts. As to whether it would be a sacrifice to sell cotton on the present market is a question which no man can answer with certainty; but there is no question of the fact that the man who is compelled to carry out a true expression of interest, is making a sacrifice. There are only the plain facts in the situation.

—Although it is a pretty common to pass when it is necessary to have troops at the polls to secure a fair election, still if that is the only way a fair election may be had, there can be no objection to the use of troops. Such a thing is very well not to fear the dangerous tendencies involved. Troops may be used to ensure fairness and also they may be used for purposes of intimidation. Let us hope that the precedent set at Charleston Tuesday will never degenerate into the use of troops for purposes of intimidation. South Carolina has a sufficient taste of that kind of thing in the days of Reconstruction.

—No matter who is responsible for that license tax on cotton and cotton seed buyers, the thing is not only contrary to law but it is wrong in principle and inimical to the best interests of the community. It was clearly the purpose of the general assembly, in exempting cotton and cotton seed buyers from the operation of the occupation license law to prevent combinations against the cotton and cotton seed sellers in restraint of trade. Cotton and cotton seed sellers have learned their rights to a larger extent than the framers of this unlawful ordinance seem to think, and they will not put up with any such disregard of their rights.

which is embodied in the religion of humanity, because they exalt the franchise of the noble saying of the Persian prophet of these modern times: "Ye are all the leaves of one tree and the drops of one sea." Great glory is not his who loves his country, but rather his who loves his kind. America is therefore the field in which the seeds of the world religion are given opportunity to germinate, and which will extend to the peoples of all climes the blessings of the religion of humanity. May we not, therefore, look upon America as the nation which is specially chosen by the Almighty to bring to the peoples of the world and to bless humanity with the fruits of universal peace?"

The Yorkville Enquirer.
Entered at the Postoffice at York as Second Matter of the Second Class.

YORK, S. C.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1915.

It seems that about the only cure for war is war.

Hog and hominy should be the programme for another year.

Chicago cockers no doubt feel that they have contributed very materially to the support of the Allies.

The feeling that the Allies will surely "win in the end," is not nearly so general now as it was.

According to our view of it, there is less danger than ever that this country will get into the war; but still predictions are unsafe.

Messrs. Grace and Hyde filed expense accounts as required by law; but as to how much either of them really spent, the public will never know.

There will be no question about the world's requirements for cotton next year, but there may be very considerable question about the world's ability to pay.

Governor Manning's letter on the warehouse merger proposition was straight to the point, and contained no suggestion of compromise. The outlook for the perfection of the system is now better than ever.

Heretofore it has been common to add a few dollars in cash to a ton of cotton seed in exchange for a ton of cotton seed meal. Now a ton of cotton seed is worth a ton of cotton seed meal and some five or six dollars in addition.

Charleston is showing most gratifying signs of reform as to the liquor question. There seems to be hope for the old town yet; but those who think that the victory is entirely won may be deceiving themselves.

The Anderson Daily Mail has announced that Major J. C. Hemphill, formerly editor of the News and Courier, and since then connected with various other newspapers, is to be the managing editor of a new daily paper to be established in Charlottesville, Va.

Whether Judge Hough is right on his Lever law decision or not, and we do not believe he is right, the decision will get in its harm for the present crop of the same. Congress, however, has been expressed in the technical opinion that the decision is based, by repassing the bill at once from the house.

The Australian ballot system as operated in Charleston works nicely, and it will be well for the general assembly to make the same law apply all over the state. It is apparent to men of observation and experience that it is the best system for the purpose.

The man who has cotton and owes debts should pay his debts. As to whether it would be a sacrifice to sell cotton on the present market is a question which no man can answer with certainty; but there is no question of the fact that the man who is compelled to carry out a true expression of interest, is making a sacrifice.

—Although it is a pretty common to pass when it is necessary to have troops at the polls to secure a fair election, still if that is the only way a fair election may be had, there can be no objection to the use of troops. Such a thing is very well not to fear the dangerous tendencies involved. Troops may be used to ensure fairness and also they may be used for purposes of intimidation.

—The action of the United States District Judge Hough in declaring the Lever law unconstitutional, will prove a serious disappointment to the cotton producers and will no doubt entail upon them great loss. The effect of the Lever law was to establish the supply and demand of cotton as the determining price of that commodity on the speculative exchange. The effect of leaving the matter to be determined by the preponderating weight of money.

—The United States has been compelled to take several things within the past year that were at one time pleasant; but there has been the part of prudence. The wealthiest and most powerful nation in the world as it is, this country is not prepared to stand up against various European countries. Of course there is no desire to fight anybody; but it has become more evident than ever to all thinking people that unless this country is prepared to fight if necessary, it may not be a great while before it finds itself without anything to fight for. It has been given out semi-officially that the Republican party will oppose the ship purchase bill, the passage of which at the last session of congress, they prevented. The previous opposition has been merely for party reasons, of course, as heretofore the Republican party has been strongly committed to the development of an American merchant marine. Under the circumstances, it is not expected that the Republicans will endorse the bill; but rather that they will content themselves with a "dignified protest," and let it go at that. If the bill passes, there will very probably come up the question as to whether the American government may properly purchase the various German ships now interned in various American ports. Naturally the Allies—Great Britain particularly—will object. The reason they will assign will be the advantage that will accrue to Germany in getting cash for property that is of no use to her. The real reason will be the tremendous advantage that will accrue to America because of this addition to her ocean carrying capacity. There are ways by which any nation can make any sort of creditable objection on the part of the Allies can be met; but as to whether she can be really reconciled is very doubtful.

Several of the newspapers are discussing a reform of the state campaign system. There is a general desire to change or abolish, but this does not mean an attempt to abolish the system. The plan is to limit the amount of the campaign such as we have had in recent years have not been the money to the people, but to the candidates. The plan of having all the candidates for state offices attend each meeting, and all speak on the same platform is a failure for the reason that there are so many candidates that none of them have sufficient time in which to make any sort of creditable speech. The plan is to have a general election, and the candidates to be chosen by the voters. The plan is to have a general election, and the candidates to be chosen by the voters.

THE CHARLESTON ELECTION.
It Proceeded Without Disorder and Hyde Is the Nominee.

On the face of the returns from the Charleston municipal primary of last Tuesday, Major T. Hyde is the Democratic nominee for mayor.

The figures as ascertained by the various newspapers show an aggregate of 3,087 votes for T. Hyde, and 2,108 for J. C. Hemphill. This gives Hyde a majority of 979.

There are a number of challenged votes, however, and some claim that the election will be decided by the tabulation of the executive committee, which meets today, to ascertain the exact result.

The commonly accepted saying that when trouble is expected, it never happens, was verified again last Tuesday. Because of the disorder of four years ago and the tense situation which began to develop a week or two before the election, the most serious and grow more tense, many were led to believe that bloodshed was imminent, and for that reason Governor Manning decided to order out the militia.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

The election passed off pretty quietly. Each side watched the other with a keen eye, but no serious incidents occurred. The troops remained under arms at distant points, and for both sides would be met with a friendly greeting.

tax provision was added in the senate, by way of a penalty to secure the enforcement of the law and the judges have been prone to construe the tax as a penalty. It is reasonably certain that the government will appeal the case to the United States supreme court, and it is hardly believed possible that this tribunal can uphold Judge Hough, for if it shall do so it will set a precedent under which many another law that has been passed under circumstances identical with this will have to be wiped out.

It is universally conceded that the Lever law has been of very great value to the cotton producers; that it has added at least a cent a pound to the speculative value of cotton, and consequently to the spot value; but as to what will be the effect of this decision cannot be safely predicted. All existing contracts have been made on the basis of the Lever law, and the cotton producers are entitled to the benefit of the law. The cotton producers are entitled to the benefit of the law.

Standard Oil Co.—On page four gives you some good information about the conveniences of a first class oil stove. Kirkpatrick-Bell Co.—Says if it is any kind of shoes you want, it is the best place to buy what you want.

W. G. Brown—The business was carried out in a very complete line—it is a good value for the money. Call and see. Thomson Co.—Invites attention to "Kammy Kloth," a new wool fabric. The new fabric is made of wool and is a good value for the money.

J. M. Stroup—Wants you to see his line of clothing. He has a new line of clothing, and it is a good value for the money. Call and see.

Not much feeding of meal and hulls to fatten cattle this year. The high price of cotton seed adds very materially to the value of all kinds of hay.

It is quite common to see good stands of oats coming up in the cotton throughout the county and that is an encouraging sign.

On this day last year, where cotton was salable at all the best price, it was 84 cents. The cotton is now salable at 84 cents.

A sworn officer who will knowingly give a false statement on the chance of not being called down is fully as good as the fellow who will appropriate another man's ten-dollar bill on the same principle.

Those of our subscribers who see proper to recommend The Enquirer to their neighbors and friends may rest assured of our sincere appreciation. The primary purpose of The Enquirer is the benefit of the public generally, and the more support we have the more useful we can be.

The recent dollar day sales in Yorkville furnished a most significant hint of the value of advertising space. The dollar day sales in Yorkville furnished a most significant hint of the value of advertising space.

There is not nearly so much mail order business throughout this county as there was some few years back. In the first place, most people have learned that the same kind of an article costs more through the mail order process than if purchased from a local merchant, and in the second place, there is a wider appreciation of the economic order of purchasing.

It is a mighty nice thing, maybe, for the lawyers and other officials to have secured for their own in which to advertise, but it is a mighty nice thing, maybe, for the lawyers and other officials to have secured for their own in which to advertise.

There is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house. A structure of logs, with the cracks partially daubed with mud, was easily passable, and it was considered no serious drawback to the good and honest work of the teachers.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
Miss Ottie, of Yorkville, authorizes the withdrawal of her name from the list of subscribers to her club, and also new subscriptions. J. R. Scott—Wants to find a black and tan dog, answers to the name of "King." Disappeared 12th. Will pay for information. Sherer & Quinn—Are receiving new table linens, including seasonable groceries. Tuna fish for salad. Winchester loaded shells.

First National Bank—Quotes Cervantes and applies the truth of his saying to the affairs of today. John R. Logan—Has a carload of quality heart cypress shingles, 4x18 inches in size. Lumber and builders hardware.

Standard Oil Co.—On page four gives you some good information about the conveniences of a first class oil stove in your home. Kirkpatrick-Bell Co.—Says if it is any kind of shoes you want, it is the best place to buy what you want.

W. G. Brown—The business was carried out in a very complete line—it is a good value for the money. Call and see. Thomson Co.—Invites attention to "Kammy Kloth," a new wool fabric. The new fabric is made of wool and is a good value for the money.

J. M. Stroup—Wants you to see his line of clothing. He has a new line of clothing, and it is a good value for the money. Call and see.

Not much feeding of meal and hulls to fatten cattle this year. The high price of cotton seed adds very materially to the value of all kinds of hay.

It is quite common to see good stands of oats coming up in the cotton throughout the county and that is an encouraging sign.

On this day last year, where cotton was salable at all the best price, it was 84 cents. The cotton is now salable at 84 cents.

A sworn officer who will knowingly give a false statement on the chance of not being called down is fully as good as the fellow who will appropriate another man's ten-dollar bill on the same principle.

Those of our subscribers who see proper to recommend The Enquirer to their neighbors and friends may rest assured of our sincere appreciation. The primary purpose of The Enquirer is the benefit of the public generally, and the more support we have the more useful we can be.

The recent dollar day sales in Yorkville furnished a most significant hint of the value of advertising space. The dollar day sales in Yorkville furnished a most significant hint of the value of advertising space.

There is not nearly so much mail order business throughout this county as there was some few years back. In the first place, most people have learned that the same kind of an article costs more through the mail order process than if purchased from a local merchant, and in the second place, there is a wider appreciation of the economic order of purchasing.

It is a mighty nice thing, maybe, for the lawyers and other officials to have secured for their own in which to advertise, but it is a mighty nice thing, maybe, for the lawyers and other officials to have secured for their own in which to advertise.

There is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

It is a source of pride and satisfaction to those who are best acquainted with the situation, that York county has a number of people in rural education, more than any county in South Carolina, and that she stands well at the head of the list in all essentials along this line. It has not been many years back since any old kind of shack was entirely satisfactory for a school house.

into the creamery enterprise, were popular with the one essential requirement for success, and that was a belief that the undertaking would make it a go and a laudable desire to make it a go. They were generally men of fine business intelligence, of course; but almost entirely without experience in the